

Elizabeth Goodale
DVM DACVD – Ontario

Dr. Goodale received her veterinary degree from the Ontario Veterinary College in 2011. After graduating, she completed a one-year small animal rotating internship at the Western College of Veterinary Medicine in Saskatoon Saskatchewan. After her internship, she spent a year working in small animal emergency medicine in London, Ontario before moving to California for her dermatology residency. She completed a 3-year residency at the University of California, Davis in 2016 and then worked as a staff dermatologist at UC Davis for an additional two years. She moved home to Ontario in 2018 and joined the Veterinary Allergy Dermatology and Ear Referral Clinic located just outside of Guelph Ontario. Her areas of interest include immune mediated diseases and equine dermatology. She is a member of the American College of Veterinary Dermatology credentials committee and has recently joined the Canadian Academy of Veterinary Dermatology executive committee as a member at large.